Nationalists Report Reds Threaten Matsuo

Tachen Islands Left Abandoned And Booby-Trapped

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON (U)—The Navy said today that the U. S. 7th Fleet, now that the Tachens evacuation is complete, will resume its normal operations but will be "on the alert for any other operations on the China coast."

TAIPEI, Formosa (U)—Nationalist China today reported a new Red invasion threat building up against Matsuo Island, 150 miles south of the abandoned and booby-trapped Tachen Islands.

The mighty U. S. 7th Fleet which had covered the evacuation of the Tachens steamed south today.

American engineers placed mines and booby traps in the wrecked Nationalist stronghold before the last supplies were loaded aboard waiting ships and a spokesman said the Chinese Communists "would have a ticklish, dangerous time at Tachen."

There was no Communist opposition as Vice Adm. Alfred M. Pride's 7th Fleet steamed toward Formosa, its gigantic evacuation task completed. But a Nationalist communiqué said Communist "invasion fleets" had reappeared in the Matsuo area, midway between Tachen and Quemoy.

United Press Correspondent William Miller, with the fleet at the Tachens, said Pride's flagship, the cruiser USS Helena, escorted by a flotilla of destroyers, brought up the rear of a huge amphibious fleet that had been assembled for the operation.

Miller flew over the island at dawn today for a last look and reported it was truly the "dead man's island" that Gen. Liu Lien-Chi, its Nationalist garrison commander, had promised to leave.

"It was completely deserted," Miller said. "Fires which had raged throughout the night had stopped. Smoking holes were all that were left of once strong Nationalist Chinese pillboxes. Every house had been flattened."

Legion Commander Says U. S. Must Face Communist Threat with Lincoln Courage

SPRINGFIELD (U)—The national commander of the American Legion, speaking at Lincoln's tomb said today the Legion's "Back to God" movement follows Lincoln's "unqualified reliance on God."

Commander Seaborn P. Collins, Las Cruces, N. M., laying a wreath at the great emancipator's tomb, said the country must face up to the Communist Far East threat with "Lincolnan courage, hope and compassion."

He said the United States pledge to defend Formosa from Communist attack is a "wise and necessary decision" that should help the Reds understand "we will not be bullied into giving them new territory and new slaves."

"The time for temporizing with communism has long since passed," Collins said.

He said the defense of the "security and integrity of America is not an easy mission."

"That is why the American Legion—and most Americans—are hopeful that the present Congress will set in motion a program of national security training for the young men of the country," Collins said.

Charlie Skaggs Local Brotherhood Week Chairman

Charlie P. Skaggs has been appointed chairman of the observance of Brotherhood Week in the Harrisburg area. The observance opens Feb. 20 and continues through Feb. 27.

Appointment of Skaggs was announced today by Russell J. Maxwell, East St. Louis, chairman of the Brotherhood Week observance for southern Illinois. The "week" is sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Maxwell also announced appointments of local chairmen in 20 other southern Illinois communities.

Skaggs and members of his committee are expected to attend the Southern Illinois Brotherhood Week dinner meeting to be held in the St. Clair County Country club, Belleville, on Feb. 21. The meeting is scheduled to start at 6:30 p. m. Harrisburg committee members will be named soon by Skaggs.

The observance of Brotherhood Week has been one of the most successful activities of the National Conference of Christians and Jews. Purpose of the week is to stimulate interest and cooperation in the promotion of good will and understanding among Catholics, Protestants, and Jews and to rid the nation of hate, bigotry, and discrimination.

The annual Brotherhood Week was first observed in 1934 with 300 communities participating. Brotherhood Week last year was celebrated by more than 10,000 communities.

The Harrisburg observance will include distribution of NCCJ literature. Speakers also will be available to discuss Brotherhood in our nation at various civic, fraternal, and religious group meetings.

Seeks Low Rent Housing for Nation's Old Folks

WASHINGTON (U)—Rep. Barratt O'Hara (D-Ill.) said today his plan to provide federally-subsidized low-rent housing for the nation's old folks has the support of 12 Democrats on the 30-man House Banking Committee.

The bill, which O'Hara introduced Wednesday, must win approval of the committee before it can be brought up on the House floor. O'Hara is a member of the committee.

His bill is designed to encourage construction by local communities over the next five years of 250,000 public housing units especially equipped for elderly people. The public housing commissioner would be authorized to make subsidy payments to local public housing authorities in order to keep rents low.

"Probably no fact stands out more clearly, during the period in which Lincoln had the welfare of our nation at heart and was guiding its destinies, than his unqualified reliance upon God."

"The American Legion in sponsoring its present nationwide 'Back to God' movement is following closely Abraham Lincoln's admonition to strengthen our reliance upon the Supreme Being for the full triumph of the right," Collins said.

Ike Urges GOP To Live Up to Lincoln Standard

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (U)—President Eisenhower called upon the Republican Party today to live up to the standards of Abraham Lincoln, its first president.

In a message commemorating the 146th anniversary of Lincoln's birth, Mr. Eisenhower said:

"The greatness of the Republican Party is, and will be, measured by the intensity of its devotion to the faith of Lincoln."

For all Americans, regardless of party lines, Mr. Eisenhower said this year's observance of Lincoln's birthday "should renew our determination to uphold the historic freedoms upon which our progress, security and happiness as a nation continue to depend."

He said the Lincoln faith and devotion in human dignity and freedom and in representative government exemplifies the cause of all Americans in the present worldwide struggle between freedom and tyranny.

The message was issued while Mr. Eisenhower enjoyed a long quail-hunting weekend as a guest of Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey at his 60-acre south Georgia plantation.

Due to bad weather, the hunting was not very good Friday.

The President, Humphrey and another guest, New York investment banker Clifford Roberts, returned from an hour and a half in the fields without a single bird.

They planned another try today, despite a forecast that temperatures would drop to from 18 to 25.

The presidential party is scheduled to fly back to Washington Sunday afternoon.

Overheated Stove Damages Home

An overheated stove damaged plasterboard at the home of Arthur Smothers on West College street near Taylor Field early yesterday afternoon, the fire department reported.

LINCOLN'S HOME RESTORED—After nearly five years of work—and a cost of some $60,000—restoration of the famous Abraham Lincoln home in Springfield, Ill., is advanced enough to permit a formal opening to the public on Feb. 12, the 146th anniversary of the Great Emancipator's birth. It was from this home that he departed in 1861 to be inaugurated President and it was from here that the martyr was buried, after his assassination in 1865. The formal opening will mark the first time that the upper floor has been opened to the public. A bit more work remains—completion of the kitchen, with a stove the same as the one Mary Todd Lincoln cooked on. The actual Lincoln stove is in the Ford Museum, in Washington, D. C. The back yard will be restored, too, with various outbuildings (including an authentic 100-year-old privy) and the well and cistern pumps. The work has progressed under the expert direction of Richard Hagen, historical consultant to the Illinois Parks and Memorial Division. The state bears the cost, but there have been valuable contributions from various sources. For instance, the Illinois chapter of the Colonial Dames of America took charge of having reproduced exactly the antique wallpaper that originally decorated the rooms. They also bought, for $1000, the original clock the Lincolns once

Committee Asks Tougher Laws Against Reds

Suggests Amending Smith Act in Report to Congress

By United Press
The House Un-American Activities Committee urged Congress today to adopt tougher laws against Communists.

In its annual report, the committee said Congress could make it easier to jail Communists by amending the Smith Act under which most party members imprisoned so far have been convicted.

The committee suggested an amendment to make mere proof of membership in the party "prima facie evidence" that the defendant knowingly and willfully conspired to teach and advocate overthrow of the government. The maximum penalty for such conspiracy is 10 year's imprisonment.

The committee also recommended that subversive publications be banned from the mail and that it be made a crime for unauthorized persons to transport secret government documents across state lines.

Other congressional news:

Cotton: Rep. E. C. Gathings (D-Ark) predicted the House will pass his bill to increase this year's national cotton planting allotment by 542,000 acres. The measure cleared the House Agriculture Subcommittee late Friday.

Amendment: Sen. John Marshall Butler (R-Md) introduced a proposed constitutional amendment to bar a member of the Supreme Court from serving as president or vice president for five years after leaving the bench.

Schools: Chairman Lister Hill (D-Ala) said the Senate Labor Committee will begin hearings next Wednesday on President Eisenhower's school construction program. The first witness will be Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, secretary of health, education and welfare.

Atomic Plant: Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn) introduced a bill to authorize the Atomic Energy Commission to construct an experimental government-owned atomic power plant. He said such a plant would "point the way" for private industry in the field.

Highways: Gore also introduced a measure to make $1,600,000,000 available in federal highway aid for each of the next five years.

Air Force Grounds B-57 Bombers

WASHINGTON (U)—The Air Force has grounded all B-57 jet bombers as the result of two crashes this week. The B-57 is a light tactical bomber which flies at more than 575 miles an hour.

The action was described as "a precautionary safety measure." The Glenn L. Martin Co., which builds the bombers, wants to investigate the two accidents in which three airmen were killed.

Students who plan to attend college next fall are urged to attend this meeting where they may gain valuable information on the many colleges and universities in this area.

This is the restored Lincoln home in Springfield, Ill. Built in 1839, it and the 50 x 152-foot lot were bought by Lincoln on May 2, 1844. Originally a story-and-a-half cottage, Mrs. Lincoln had it converted to two full stories in 1856, at a cost of $1300. Lincoln had the brick-based picket fence built about 1855. It is the only home Lincoln ever owned and to it he brought his wife, Mary Todd Lincoln and his nine-month-old son, Robert. Three other sons were born in the house—Edward, William and Thomas. It was the Lincoln home from 1844 to February, 1861, except for the first part of his term in Congress.

Season's Worst Cold Wave Of Season Grips Nation; Extends South to Gulf

By United Press
The season's worst cold wave gripped most of the nation east of the Rockies today threatening lush citrus crops in Florida and vegetable gardens in Texas.

Freezing weather extended southward to the Gulf Coast in some places. In Florida, temperatures fell as much as 40 degrees and snow hit upper portions of Dixie.

Heavy rain and snow pelted the Northeast accompanied by gale winds, snow and rapidly falling temperatures.

Coldest weather reported, however, was in the upper plains states where temperatures were around 20 below zero. Bismarck, N. D., recorded 24 below zero early today.

Workers labored in subzero temperatures near Osakis, Minn., and Augusta, Me.—clearing wreckage of two rain derailments. No one was reported killed in either.

Snow In Dixie
At New York, the city's streets were a nightmare as rain turned into snow, then piled up to make driving hazardous.

The worst weather in 15 years blocked highways with snow and ice, forcing schools to close in east Tennessee. Snow up to three inches covered parts of Dixie.

In the four-state area of Missouri, Kansas, Nebraska, and Oklahoma gas service has been restored to 1,100 industrial users and 20 schools. The gas service company had imposed the ban because of a lingering cold spell.

End of the ban means pupils in nine Oklahoma schools could return to classes.

The vulnerable Rio Grande Valley vegetable and citrus area fought against an expected damaging freeze. Temperatures of around 25 to 30 were predicted—dangerous for citrus groves.

Deaths Mounting
Meanwhile, deaths began to mount from icy traffic conditions and fires caused by overworked heating systems.

At Kennebunkport, Maine, three young children perished as fire swept a one-story bungalow. At Chicago, at least 12 persons were killed and dozens routed into bitter cold weather in a Skid Row hotel blaze.

One man at New York was killed when he brushed against fallen high tension lines.

Iowa had two traffic deaths attributed to the weather, Indiana four and Mississippi and Kentucky two each.

Approximately 27 colleges and universities will be represented Tuesday night and are as follows: Brown's school, Southern Illinois university, Southern Illinois college, Lincoln college, McKendree college, MacMurray college, Monmouth college, Monticello college, Shurtleff college, Illinois college, Illinois Wesleyan college, St. Mary's hospital, Wabash college, St. Luke's hospital, Murray State college, Park college, William Jewell college, Washington university, Millikin, Moser Secretarial school, Blackburn college, Rolla School of Mines, University of Illinois, Lockyear's, Southern Illinois University, Vocational and Technical Institute, St. Louis university, and Southeastern Missouri State.

Those attending College Night will first be registered at the door and will then go to Taylor Assembly where Charles Polk, president of the HTHS Student Council, will give a talk and programs will be handed out giving the names of the colleges represented and the rooms in which the various representatives will be located. The students may then go and talk with the representatives. At the close of the meeting, refreshments will be served by student council members assisted by Miss Alvina Shes-tak.

Students who plan to attend college next fall are urged to attend this meeting where they may gain valuable information on the many colleges and universities in this area.

Mrs. O. W. Reitz Is Injured In Auto Crash

Mrs. O. W. Reitz of this city was injured yesterday in a crash of two automobiles on Route 45 near the Harrisburg Motor hotel and was taken to the Lighter hospital by ambulance.

Her husband said this morning that she suffered broken ribs and that x-rays were to be made today to determine if there were other injuries.

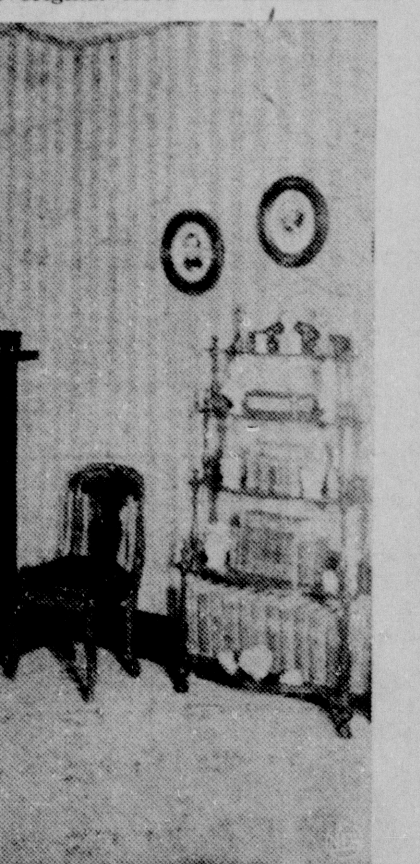

State Policeman Roy A. Lane said the crash occurred about 3:15 p. m. Mrs. Reitz was alone, driving toward Eldorado. A car in which John L. Feazel of Harrisburg also was driving alone was coming toward Harrisburg and the left front tire of the Feazel car blew out, sending his machine into the lane in which Mrs. Reitz was approaching, police said.

The vehicles sideswiped and the Reitz car went down the steep embankment.

The Reitz car was damaged extensively.

Mr. and Mrs. Reitz live in the Pickford apartments on West Poplar street.

Another Springfield family made contributions of furniture, clothing and pictures of the Lincoln era. Among them were the descendants of Springfield's Jacob Bunn, a pallbearer at Lincoln's funeral. The restoration not only brings back the interior appearance as Lincoln knew it, but actually has made the house a much sturdier structure than it was in his day. Steel beams have replaced some of the termite-eaten wooden ones. The chimney was dismantled, the exterior was painted the original Quaker tan. Flooring was taken up and braced in anticipation of throngs of sightseers. A modern heating and ventilating system was installed. On the inside, in addition to the especially printed wallpaper, the Lincoln drapes were reproduced by a special weaving job. Real antique lace curtains were used. But much of the family's belongings have been destroyed or are owned by collectors. In such cases, items as nearly like the ones Lincoln had have been searched out in antique shops and bought from private owners. In this year and the future, the restored Lincoln home is expected to be even more of a mecca for Americans than it was in the past, when visitors averaged more than 400,000 a year.

250 Driven to Street in Sub-Zero Weather

Most Victims Trapped in Upper Floors; Dozen Hurt

CHICAGO (U)—Fire struck a crowded hotel for men on a "Skid Row" street of the Near West Side early today, killing at least 18 men and driving about 250 others into the street in sub-zero temperatures.

At least a dozen were injured and taken to Cook County Hospital, where doctors said some might die.

After a search of the ice-coated ruins, firemen and corner's officials said the deaths at 7-40 a. m. CST were at least 18. A cluster of four bodies was found on an upper floor. Officials said the search would go on all day.

Flames and smoke poured through the hotel, the Barton, occupying the upper four floors of a five story building, shortly after 1:30 a. m.

5-Foot Wide Rooms
Firemen said most of the upper four floors were partitioned off into cubicles of wood, corrugated iron and wire mesh, each about five feet wide and holding a single bed.

Some of the victims were trapped in these, and others were killed or injured as they struggled out of them into passageways.

Scores of the homeless jammed into the Salvation Army Harbor Lights Mission nearby. Many had escaped in nothing but their underwear.

As the sun rose, firemen were forced to abandon their ladders, which they were using for entry into upper floors, because they were bent beneath the weight of ice. Fire equipment was caked with ice.

Most of the dead were found near doors, in hallways and near windows leading to fire escapes, indicating they had struggled to escape from the flames.

It was the third extra-alarm fire in the area near the western borders of the Chicago Loop since Thursday. In the first two, vacant buildings which were being demolished as part of a super-highway clearance project were wrecked by flames, and five firemen were slightly hurt in one.

One Killed in Leap
Police said at least one of the dead in today's blaze was killed by a leap from an upper floor.

Coroner Walter E. McCarron, on the scene shortly after the fire was reported, said he would conduct an inquest Monday, using a "blue ribbon" coroner's jury to direct the investigation.

McCarron recalled that several Chicago fires in the past two years had taken lives and said he was going to demand prosecution of those responsible for the conditions which led to fatalities.

Lincoln, Man Of Compassion

Editorial BY BRUCE BLOSSAT

Abraham Lincoln is one of the few great men of American life
whose appeal is almost world-wide.
Long ago his fame went out beyond our own shores, and its luster has not been dimmed by time.

In a sense, perhaps we should be chagrined that Europeans and Asians and others find so little to cherish in American history, indeed that most of them know so little of the exciting fabric of our history.

This great deficiency is a fact,
and it reflects sadly on the pretensions of some peoples to a kind of aged-in-the-world maturity. For young and brash though America may be in comparison with many lands, it is a place of consummate importance to all the world in this era. And there can be no maturity that does not embrace an understanding of our country and its history.

Still, we should be eternally thankful that of all our revered historic figures, the world has fastened upon Abraham Lincoln as the man most deserving of their esteem and even devotion.

Because Lincoln in his rich individuality, in his stark simplicity, embodied most of the elements
which have made America the great and unique place it is.

In this plain man from Illinois
was the raw stuff of the frontier
which has done so much to shape American ways. In him, too, was the flavor of the earth, a thing that could be sensed by plain, earthy folk anywhere around the globe.

For all his rough exterior, the chisel markings on his face were those of greatness. They were written the resolution needed for a great, growing country from being torn apart; and the deep compassion this man felt for all who suffered in the nation's ordeal.

This compassion, mirrored in the sad, deep-set eyes, is most likely the universal element in Lincoln's appeal. Here was a man who unmistakably cared deeply for humanity. The intensity of his concern shone through for all to see.

But it is not only the look of him that tells this story. Among Lincoln's rare gifts was his almost innate mastery of the art of using words. Whether he wrote or spoke,
the words that poured forth lent force to his convictions and put the glow of simple honesty
about his gestures of compassion.

Any who heard or read his words when Lincoln lived, or who read them now, must feel instantly elevated in the human scale. For at the core of what he said was his unending appreciation of the dignity and sanctity of the human individual.

That was Lincoln's secret, if a thing can be a secret when it is obvious to all his grateful fellow men.

If your white woolens are yellowing, it's not because they're reverting to their original color.
They've been subjected to soap with too much alkali in it or chlorine bleaches or sun drying.
Use only hydrogen peroxide or sodium perborate to restore whiteness.

Robert Ingersoll names Thomas Paine as the first person to write the words "United States of America."

SIU Country Column

By Albert Meyer

There are some new trends in agronomy which may prove beneficial to regional farmers. Proponents attach much value to them
but usage is not widespread, particularly in this region.

Interplanting of grass and legumes, even wheat, in corn may prove beneficial on such land as is found in southern Illinois. An obstacle has been uncertainty in establishing a good stand. The general thought is that seedling growth can be effectively improved by such practices as widening the interspaces between corn plants,
band seeding the interplantings
rather than broadcasting, and advancing the date of seeding. The big gamble with interseeding meadow crops in corn is limited moisture after planting.

Forage species that are suited for interplanting in corn are espedera, hairy vetch, rye grass, yellow sweet clover, and alfalfa. Not so well adapted to interplanting are red clover, ladino clover, and birdsfoot trefoil.

Interplanting wheat in corn seems to hold some promise but requires adjustments in the seeding program. In areas where a rotation of corn, winter wheat, and meadow is used, wheat follows corn because corn makes good use of meadow residue and the wheat is more dependable as a companion crop for meadow seedings. One problem arising is that the optimum seeding dates for wheat are earlier than the optimum dates for mechanical corn harvest.

Seeding wheat in corn row spaces is proving practical where the rows are spaced at 60 inches and where a suitable small tractor and narrow drill are available. This procedure, of course, requires some special equipment. Grain yields, however, are higher compared with conventional methods because the weed seeding is more timely and full-season rather than early corn hybrids may be planted.

Here are a couple of suggestions
for the farmer to consider in buying baby chicks for a laying flock:
A basic plan is to get the chicks
from a place where hatching eggs have been obtained from stock that has produced a profit for the owner. Undoubtedly he has taken into consideration such inherited factors as high egg production, egg
size, egg color, rate of feathering, livability of chickens, and rate of growth. Chicks from stock rating good in these factors are more likely to be profitable than those from rather nondescript stock.

Another essential point is to obtain chicks where a good pullorum testing program is underway. The National Poultry Improvement Plan
is helpful in determining if a hatchery or breeder is carrying out such a program, because hatcheries operating with the plan are subject to unannounced periodic inspections of breeding flocks, testing programs, and hatchery operations.

Don't add unnecessary cost to your steer calf and yearling rations
by feeding too much supplement along with the roughage this winter.

Efficiency in Poultry Raising

Even in a good year, some poultrymen lose money while, in a poor year, there are always some who make money. The reason for this is, to a large extent, efficiency of operation.

There are many factors other than rate of growth and production that enter into the efficiency of producing poultry—size of the business, layout and arrangement of poultry quarters, planning of the work routine. Some of these are so obvious as to be overlooked.

Owners of large flocks have an advantage over owners of small flocks. As the number of birds increases, many of the chores do not increase in proportion. It takes as much time to walk to the poultry house to feed 50 hens as it does to feed 500. So, as the flock gets larger, the share time spent per bird is shorter and the cost of care per bird is less.

Better Margin
This allows owners of large flocks to have a more favorable margin between costs and prices received. Also, large-scale producers can buy and sell at more favorable prices than can small flock owners because of volume discounts and credits. Investment in buildings and equipment usually does not increase as rapidly as does increase in size of business.

The small operator, therefore,
must make his operation as efficient as possible to compete with the large-scale producer. He must get a maximum return for his efforts.

The number of trips made to the laying house can sometimes be reduced by doing more jobs on each trip. Jobs such as feeding the flock and gathering eggs should be combined.

Needs Planning
The poultry buildings should be consolidated and well arranged.
Nests should be located near the door (the hens have more time to carry eggs than you do). Feeders should be placed in line for easy filling. The feed supply should be conveniently located.

Automatic waterers are a big timesaver. A good automatic feeder, coupled with bulk storage of feed, will save many hours of hard work. An overhead conveyor for feed is a labor saver.

A good poultryman should continually examine his chore routine to see if there are better, quicker
and easier ways of doing a job.
He should consider that his time
is worth money, just as if he paid himself an hourly salary to care for the flock.

In Paraguay there is a firefly called the railway beetle, which flashes a red light at the ends of its body and a green light along the sides.

Use Corn as Soil Builder

Corn can be a soil-building crop.
Residue left after corn is harvested can return just as much organic matter to the soil as any legume if enough nitrogen is added to convert it. S. W. Melsted, soil specialist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture, said
at the annual Farm and Home
Week program last week.

Plowing under cornstalks and adding nitrates in the proper amounts will convert the residue
into available organic matter, Melsted says.

It takes about one part of nitrogen to 10 parts of carbon to make organic matter, the agronomist explained. In order to convert corn stover into organic matter, about 30 pounds of nitrogen must be added to the soil.

Melsted says corn is not a soil-depleting crop. It is usually the soil management that goes with the growing of corn that lowers soil fertility.

Wide-row planting of corn with associated legumes and grasses may be the answer to the erosion problem in corn culture.

Farmers Warned To Keep Eye On Corn Borer

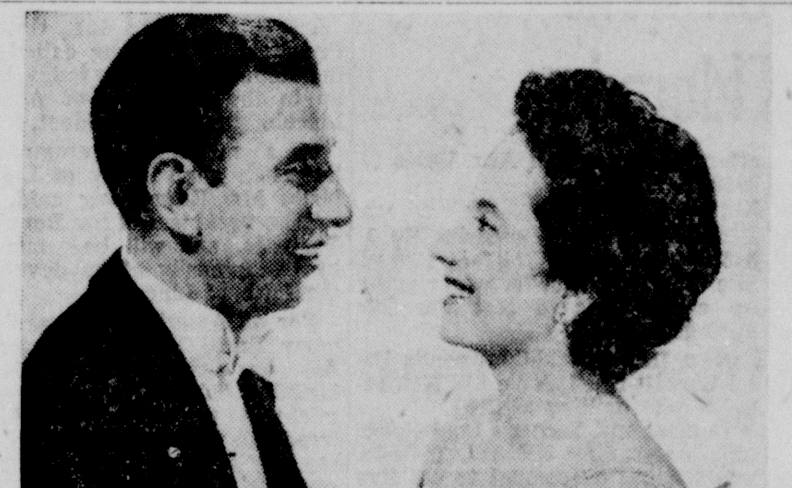

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (U.P.)—Illinois
farmers had better keep an eye on the European corn borer.

Overwintering populations of the destructive insect are at the highest level since 1949, Dr. Harlow B.
Mills, chief of the Illinois Natural History Survey, warned Wednesday.

If weather conditions are favorable in the winter and spring "a very serious infestation could develop in 1955," Mills told a meeting of the State Board of Natural Resources and Conservation here.

The survey chief also said Illinois farmers had saved an estimated $7,130,000 in 1954 by the use of modern control methods against the corn borer and four other insect groups, grasshoppers, cicada bugs, Armyworms and legume insects.

Mills said about a quarter million acres were treated with in-secticides for control of the insects.

Get Cull Trees Out Of Your Woodland

URBANA — You can't get the most return from your farm woodlands as long as they include cull,
poor risk or low value trees.

Make periodic improvement cuts
to provide growing space for profitable, harvest-type trees, suggests Ted W. Curtin, forester at the University of Illinois College
of Agriculture.

Girdle, poison or cut down and haul away cull trees, Curtin says.
A cull tree is one not now saleable for anything except firewood and that will never produce at least one merchantable log.

Poor risk trees will not live until the next cut or will deteriorate before then. You can tell them by their broken tops, large rotten stubs of limbs, blind knots, conks, cankers, leaky knots, basal scars
and poor crown.

Take out "wolf" trees, too, Curtin says. They are usually large, limby, poorly-formed trees or over-mature trees that take up more space than is justified by their value and growth.

Also cut trees that don't have much of a future. These may be sound, merchantable trees, but undesirable longer for growing stock
because of poor form or other poor characteristics.

Look for inferior species when you cut. But don't cut them if taking them out will seriously lower the number of growing trees.
In general, it's a good idea to take out any tree that will not be more valuable at the time of the next cutting.

More than 500,000 children are among the 10,000,000 U. S. sufferers from diseases of the heart and blood vessels.

FREE-WHEELING—A special sling devised for Fritzell, a San Jose, Calif., dachshund, enables him to get around and even pick up the roller skate, an added feature of the sling.

Build Up Land to Provide Adequate Income to Support Farm Family

CHICAGO—More than 1,500,000
of the nation's farms are "too small" to provide the income that Americans expect, reports the Middle West Soil Improvement committee, in citing figures recently quoted by O. B. Jesness, head of the University of Minnesota's agricultural economics department.

"The volume of business from these small units," says the committee, "is not sufficient to adequately support the farm family."

One way to increase that volume of business is to acquire more land, according to the committee. Another way is to build up the productive power of the land already owned.

Farm research men have found that most Corn Belt farms are producing only about half the crops
they could profitably yield.

"Building the land's productive power to make the soil realize its full crop yielding potential," says
the committee, "would increase net income more than buying or renting additional land."

Recommend Piper And Sweet Sudan Grass Varieties

Piper and Sweet Sudan varieties of Sudan grass are recommended for seeding by Illinois farmers.

C. N. Hittle, plant specialist at the University of Illinois College
of Agriculture, in a Farm and Home Week report last week said that Piper produced higher yields than other varieties and was only slightly damaged by leaf diseases and chinch bugs last year. The 1954 Sudan grass variety trials were conducted at three locations
throughout Illinois.

Hittle says Piper is also low in dangerous prussic acid content.
Sweet Sudan yielded moderately well in the trials, but was damaged considerably by leaf diseases.
Chinch bugs did not bother Sweet Sudan.

Hittle expects plenty of Piper
and Sweet Sudan seed to be available for Illinois farmers this year.
If you want to buy Piper, you'll find the price two to five cents
higher than that of Sweet Sudan.

Common Sudan did not do well in last year's tests. Yields were low and the crop suffered heavy damage from both leaf diseases
and chinch bugs.

Greenleaf, a new variety recently developed by the Kansas Experiment Station, was low in yield in 1954, but showed superior resistance to leaf diseases and chinch bug invasion. Commercial seed of this variety is not yet available to Illinois farmers.

First Baptist Craighead

Circle Meets With

Mrs. Bolen Perkins

Mrs. Bolen Perkins was hostess

Thursday at 1 p. m. to the Craighead circle of the First Baptist church.

Mrs. Archie Abney, chairman, opened the meeting with the song, "All Hail the Power," sung by the group, and with prayer by Mrs. Charles Gibbons.

Mrs. Stanley Price, program chairman, gave the devotion using Psalms 19:1-7, 8:1-4 and 40:17 for scripture. The theme of her talk was "Footprints of God." She closed with prayer.

Mrs. Abney conducted the business meeting during which time reports were given and it was announced that the circle community mission work for this month of February was to visit the sick and shut-ins in groups. A list of new prospects was given out and a motion was made to change the time of the meeting from 1:30 to 2 p. m.

Mrs. Roscoe Metcalf gave two chapters of the mission study book, "Under the North Star." The meeting was closed with prayer by Mrs. Abney.

Mrs. George Lindenmuth and Mrs. Pruett Hart, daughter and granddaughter of Mrs. Perkins entertained the group with several selections on the Hammond organ and the piano.

Mrs. Perkins served refreshments to four guests. Mrs. Pruett Hart, Mrs. Finner Williams, Mrs. Carl Beggs, and Mrs. Ed Creek and to 14 members.

The March meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Stanley Price.

Mrs. Fred Moore Hostess

To Baptist Bethany Class

The Bethany class of the Young Adult department of the First Baptist Sunday school held its regular business meeting and social at the home of Mrs. Fred Moore, 1215 South Jackson, with Mrs. Russell Rose as co-hostess.

Mrs. Max McDowell, class president, was in charge of the business meeting and plans were made to participate in the Church Day of Visitation on Feb. 10.

Mrs. Rose gave an inspiring devotion entitled "Something's Missing," with Bible verses relating to the subject being read by various members present. After the devotion Bible quizzes and other games were enjoyed, with prizes going to Mrs. J. C. Cooper, Mrs. Ernest Becker and Mrs. Bill Boyett.

Mrs. Boyett constructed the most original Valentine, and so won her prize. Refreshments of chili, relishes and Cokes were served by the hostesses.

Other members present were Mrs. Paul McSparrin, Mrs. Cecil Abney, Mrs. Noble Mitchell, and the class teacher, Mrs. D. H. Hiller.

Mrs. Roy Rievely Hostess

To Blanche Simpson Circle

The Blanche Simpson circle of the First Baptist church met with Mrs. Roy Rievely, 217 South Jackson, Wednesday, with 11 members present.

Mrs. S. J. Cole was in charge of the meeting in the absence of the regular chairman.

Mrs. Charley Wilson gave the scripture reading from Romans 10 and offered prayer after which Mrs. Cole presented Mrs. Louie Beltz who gave a review of the second part of the book, "Under the North Star" by Harold Dye.

To make her talk more interesting Mrs. Beltz pointed out the different places on a large map of Alaska.

At the next meeting Mrs. Ray Altire, a new member, will give the third and last part of the book.

It was announced that the circle is sponsoring a Y. W. A. banquet Monday evening, Feb. 14.

Mrs. Rievely served refreshments to the following: Mrs. Louie Beltz, Mrs. Leland Armistead, Mrs. Guy Lawrence, Mrs. W. C. Rainbow, also a new member, Mrs. Charles Wilson, Mrs. S. J. Cole, Mrs. George Mayes, Mrs. Charles Gustin, Mrs. Ray Altire, and Mrs. Charles Girt.

Four Mormon Missionaries Here

For Door-to-Door Religious Work

Don Anderson James Porter

R. K. Neerings Ivan Bunker

Four Mormon missionaries, members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, are doing door-to-door work to discuss religion and the Mormon church with local residents.

Their efforts are devoted to stimulate an interest in religion. The Mormon church has about 5,000 missionaries throughout the world. In English-speaking countries they serve two years and in foreign speaking nations they serve two and a half years. Every member of the church is expected to serve as a missionary either in this country or a foreign nation if called by the authorities of the church.

After returning from their mission they resume their regular profession and also continue their work in the church.

The four young men doing missionary work in Harrisburg are: Don Anderson, 23, of Salt Lake City, Utah, who was discharged from the Air Force in 1952 and then attended the University of Utah until called to missionary work in September 1953. He will resume his schooling when released from missionary work in September.

Raymond K. Neerings, 20, of Vellye, Calif., a pharmacist's aide before his mission work. He will return either to the Army or to the University of California to further his work in architecture.

James Porter, 20, of Delta, Utah, who majored in physical education before being called for mission work. He plans to finish his education and also serve in the Army when released from his mission in 1957.

Ivan Bunker, 20, of Provo, Utah, who attended Brigham Young university before missionary work. He plans to return either to school or go into service.

There is no paid ministry in the church, therefore each missionary pays all his own expenses. Most of them are using their savings, supplemented by help from their families.

If invited into the home the missionaries try to confine their visit to about 20 minutes. In a typical day they will knock on about 25 doors, be invited into about eight or 10 homes. In the evenings they will make return visits to families who have shown special interest in the church.

Meetings of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints are held on Sundays at 10:30 a. m. in Carbondale in the Odd Fellows hall.

Southern Illinois Firemen Busy

By United Press

Firemen in several southern Illinois cities were hard-pressed Friday to keep up with a series of fires which broke out in five cities as the winter's worst cold wave hit the area.

Seven fires were reported within a 20-mile area and most were blamed on overheated furnaces or stoves as the mercury hovered near zero.

Carbondale firemen were called to three house fires within a two-hour period. Two of the alarms came within two minutes of each other. Authorities said fire believed caused by faulty wiring destroyed one house and overheated furnaces caused fires which damaged badly two other houses in Carbondale.

The Du Quoin fire department stood by at Carbondale with one truck after the Carbondale firemen were unable to get aid from Marion or Herrin because their trucks were on duty at Energy and Herrin.

The Herrin firefighters went to a blaze at Energy while Marion stood by at Herrin. Later the Herrin department had difficulty getting its equipment started back to Herrin.

Meanwhile two houses were reported on fire in the village of Freeman Spur, three miles from Herrin, which has no fire department.

The Marion truck went to Freeman Spur along with a truck from Zeigler after Herrin firemen returned to their quarters. It was reported one house was destroyed at Freeman Spur.

Johnston City and West Frankfort firemen battled a fire that destroyed an old icehouse in Johnston City. The two-story building

Elks Valentine Dance Tonight

Elks and their ladies will enjoy one of the finest social functions of the year tonight, when Tommy Lawson and his orchestra will play for the annual Valentine dance at the Elks lodge.

The Valentine dance committee has been working hard to provide a beautiful setting for the affair, and an enjoyable evening is promised. Members of the committee, headed by Mr. and Mrs. George Robertson, are: Mr. and Mrs. John "Sonny" Cummins, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Scherle, Mr. and Mrs. John Stump, Mr. and Mrs. John Humm, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wavering, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rushing, and Mr. and Mrs. Morris Skaggs. Charlie Skaggs is general entertainment chairman for the year, and this dance is the last major function of his committee, although several events on a smaller scale are planned.

Dance time is 9:30 until 1:30 tonight, and a large crowd is hoped for by the committee.

Yours in simple good faith . . . yours for devotion to human justice . . . yours, ours, everybody's sincere friend — "A. Lincoln."

QUICKIES By Ken Reynolds

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP)
Penn State Football Coach Rip Engle said today he felt like "Roy Rogers without his horse" when he learned Lenny Moore, the nation's second leading ground gainer, had been dismissed for low grades.

Moore, who gained 1,082 yards as a junior last season, was dropped from school Friday for "unsatisfactory scholarship" after failing to pass 50 per cent of his work.

It was questionable who felt worse — Moore or Engle. Moore could not be contacted. All efforts to locate him through students who lived with him at the Hamilton Hall Dormitory were met with a "we don't know where he is, but he hasn't checked out yet."

The grey-haired Engle was talkative but a twinge of sadness was in his voice.

Engle's Greatest Player
"He is the greatest football player I ever coached. Engle repeated at least twice. 'I understand he can reapply for admission to school but I guess it's a long range process.'"

"You know I lost 13 boys through graduation," Engle reminded when asked what a "Mooreless" season held in store.

He then indicated that you just don't fill the fleet shoes of the likes of Moore.

"There are all kinds of players but you just can't find one who plays like a Moore every day. Engle said, forcing a chuckle. "It's hard to find a player who can reapply for admission to school but I guess it's a long range process."

The Reading, Pa. Negro, around whom Engle had built the nucleus of his attack, led the Lions to a 7-2 record last year. His 1,082 yards also was a new record for the university.

Became Marked Man
A 20-year, 174-pounder, Moore scored 78 points last season and was the iron man of the Lion squad. He played more than any other Penn State player.

Around the Penn State campus they still talk about the way that "Lightning Lenny" outshined Illinois' two great Negro backs, J. C. Caroline and Mickey Bates. It was during the first game of the season for the Lions and they banked on Moore heavily.

And the fleet Moore came through handily. But not only against Illinois. During the entire season he was a marked man but still managed to grind out better than 120 yards a game.

Princess Maria Pia of Italy Weds Exiled Prince
CASCAIS, Portugal (AP)—Princess Maria Pia of Italy married exiled Prince Alexander of Yugoslavia in the royal wedding of the year today.

Maria, 20-year-old daughter of ex-King Umberto of Italy, was 10 minutes late for the ceremony and was pale and nervous as she pronounced her vows.

Alexander, tall, handsome and 30, was calm and cool throughout the 16-minute ceremony witnessed by 600 persons inside the tiny church of Our Lady of the Assumption and by 3,500 other guests outside.

It took 700 policemen to hold back the crowds of royalty, nobility and curious villagers who thronged into this obscure Portuguese fishing village for what the bride's father called a "simple family wedding."

WEST UNION, Minn. (AP)—The Great Northern streamliner "Western Star" jumped the tracks near here late Friday, injuring 40 passengers after a rail apparently snapped from the intense cold.

No one was killed. Besides the 40 passengers hospitalized or treated and released, one rescue worker required treatment for an injury received at the scene. He was identified as the Rev. Kloechner, a Catholic priest here.

Test Nikes In Northern Canada
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army is testing its anti-aircraft guided missile, the Nike, in the far northern regions of Canada.

The tests are "to determine the effects of extreme low temperatures on the complex component parts of the Nike weapons system," but an Army spokesman refused to give any details on what may have been learned in the first arc-firings.

Galatia Squeezes By Equality in Overtime, 67-63

Galatia's Bearcats squeezed out a 67-63 overtime victory over Equality last night at Galatia, avenging an earlier one-point defeat to the Cardinals.

The Mirandamen came from behind in the closing minute of the regular game to gain a tie. Then in the overtime session, Galatia outscored Equality 6-2 for the victory.

The host Bearcats opened fast, piling up a 16-10 quarter advantage, but visiting Equality rallied in the second period to take a 35-32 halftime lead. Galatia made up the three-point deficit before the end of the third quarter, and the two teams were deadlocked, 49-49, going into the final period.

Both teams counted 12 points in the last eight minutes. Coach "Kay" Willis' Cardinals appeared to have the game in hand with less than a minute to play and a four-point lead. But the Bearcats managed to get in two quick shots, both good for goals. The regular playing period ended with the game tied at 61-61.

Equality won the preliminary, 58-44.

Tonight, the Bearcats are host to Carrier Mills. The Wildcats won an earlier game between the two schools, 61-59, in a double overtime thriller. Galatia's basketball queen will also be crowned in ceremonies this evening.

Shawneetown Defeats Rosiclare, 67-31, For 24th Win; Pope County, Vienna Win

Shawneetown made it 24 in a row without a defeat last night, whipping Rosiclare's scrappy but smaller Bears, 67-31. It was the last home game of the season for the unbeaten Indians, who must yet down Enfield and Pope Co. high on foreign courts to finish the season with an unblemished record. Between the reserve and varsity game, brief ceremonies were held in recognition of the Shawneetown basketball queen for 1954-55, June Fields, senior, was named queen by members of the basketball squad. Her attendants were Doris Walters and Mary Fox, seniors, Carolyn Heath, junior, Jane Rox, sophomore, and Deloris Smith, freshman.

Against the smaller Bears, Shawneetown's tall outfit ran up an 18-4 quarter score, but the young Rosiclare club began to connect on set shots in the second quarter, outscoring their opponents 10-8 in that period. The half-time score was Shawneetown 26, Rosiclare 14.

The Indians regained their shooting eye in the third and moved off to a 44-24 lead. Then in the final quarter, they out-pointed the invaders 23-7 for the 26-point decision.

Shawneetown hit 29 of 70 attempts from the field for a 41.4 and nine of 16 free throw efforts. Rosiclare made 14 of 43 field goal tries for a 32.6. They hit three of six foul efforts.

In other Greater Egyptian conference tussles, Vienna and Pope Co. maintained their second and third place standings with victories over Ridgway and Cave-in-Rock respectively. Pope topped Rock 48-45, and Vienna slipped past Ridgway, 59-50.

Coach Al Penman's Eagles gave Vienna a terrific battle before bowing. Ridgway led 15-11 at the quarter but trailed 24-22 at half-time. Vienna managed to keep a small lead throughout the third and entered the final period with a 38-34 margin.

Loss of Denny Drone, Barter and Downen in the final quarter materially hurt the Eagles' chances. Vienna's sharpshooting at the charity stripe was also a telling factor in the outcome. Ridgway made 16 of 30 while Vienna caged 25 of 30.

Pope Co. broke out of a 11-11 deadlock with Cave in the second quarter to set the pace for the victory. The Pirates led 25-21 at the intermission and spurred to a 41-30 advantage in the third. During the final period Cave rallied, but Pope Co. made its final lead withstand the late attack.

Holland, Roper and Green led the victors with 14, 12 and 11 points. Lane was high for the losers with 19.

Some men are remembered for their deeds... the battles they won and the prizes they gained. But not A. Lincoln!

Men still call him "honest Abe," and they take courage in his humility. Men honor his devotion to the principles for which he stood; they esteem his love for humanity; they marvel at his capacities for sympathy, understanding and forgiveness.

History has known few men whose memory could survive the hatreds of war and find sanctuary in the hearts of victor and vanquished alike. But Abe Lincoln belongs to all of America. Christian nobility is revered for itself, whether it wore blue or gray.

As the character of a man can bind up the wounds of a nation, so the Christian faith which moulded Abe Lincoln can build under God a world of peace and understanding. To that proposition our Churches are dedicated.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

'New Life in Christ'

John 3:5-7; Acts 16:25-34;
II Cor. 5:17
GOLDEN TEXT: "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." (John 10:10)

INTRODUCTION: The new birth has been a constant source of amazement through all the ages. Men declare their inability to believe in miracles, yet, the greatest of all miracles takes place when a person is "born again." Let a sinner confess his sins to God, believe in Christ as his own personal Saviour and know that his sins are all forgiven, and you have the miracles of all miracles taking place.

This can be the experience of any person who desires it. Any man, woman, boy or girl, who has reached the age of accountability, can be born again. If you know that you are a lost sinner, you know enough to be saved — born again.

I "YE MUST BE BORN AGAIN" (John 3:5-7)
Jesus was talking here to a good, moral, religious man. He was the kind of man whom, if he were living today, everyone would look up to as being one of the best in the community. Yet, he was lost. He was doomed to die and go into an everlasting hell.

There are millions of people today in the same condition. They are good people. Goodness does not save. They pay their debts and never lie. Honesty does not save. They never swear, but they always have a clean speech. Good speech does not save. Only one way can a person be saved, and that is by being "born again." This is what Jesus told Nicodemus.

II THE EARTHQUAKE SENT BY GOD (Acts 16:25-26)
Paul and Silas were bound in prison. They had been preaching the gospel, and for that they were whipped with a cruel lash and cast into prison. At midnight they were singing praises and testifying to the glory of Christ. God did not overlook such faith. He never does! He sent an earthquake and shook that old prison so hard that all the prison doors swung open. The jailer thought his prisoners had escaped, for which he knew he would be put to death. He drew his sword and was about to commit suicide, when Paul cried out: "Do thyself no harm; for we are all here."

The jailer fell on his knees before Paul and Silas as if to worship them, crying.

III "WHAT MUST I DO TO BE SAVED?" (Acts 16:27-34)
When a person wants sincerely to know how to be saved, he will soon find out. Paul gave the perfect answer to this question when he answered the jailer: "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved." Notice that he said "believe," and nothing else. After he was saved he followed the Lord in baptism. This is found in Acts 16:33.

IV THE NEW CREATURE (II Cor. 5:17)
The "new birth" is not a reformation. "If any man is in Christ, he is a new creature." You will never become a "new creature" by merely reformatting. This comes only by spiritual rebirth. This verse goes on to say: "Old things are passed away, behold, all things are become new." A person is never the same after he has become a Christian. He is altogether a different person.

CONCLUSION: Millions of people are running themselves to death today seeking for peace of mind. Countless numbers of books and magazine articles are written monthly to try to meet this need. If you are one of these, why not go to the one and only Book, God's Word, the Bible. There you will find the answer to every question and problem of your life. Then you will find the "Prince of peace." There you will find Christ who will give you rebirth, make you "a new creature" and give you that peace that passeth all understanding. He is a wonderful Saviour!
